CAREER OBJECTIVE

With hands-on experience as a Core Shop Engineer intern in a Foundry Plant, I have developed strong skills in manpower management, optimizing production processes, and operating cold box machines to produce high-quality core items. I am now seeking a challenging role in the foundry industry where I can apply my expertise to meet production targets, improve process efficiency, and uphold high-quality standards in casting. Eager to contribute to the growth of the organization, I am committed to further enhancing my skills and knowledge in foundry operations
